OUR TOWN

Ferguson supporters are highly pleased with the meeting at Rockdale Tuesday when the Governor spoke in behalf of her candidacy for a second term. Rain falling early in the morning kept thousands away but in spite of that thousands were there to hear the governor. Former Governor Jim Ferguson made a truly great speech. He is in fine fettle and must wage a battle against great odds in this campaign.

The big daily papers are against Ferguson. They have always been against Ferguson but in this campaign they are using every possible means to defeat them. They have gone so far as to boycott his speeches. They won't give him a square deal by printing their speeches as they do for the other candidates. The Fergusons will depend on their friends among the country newspapers, and rely upon their ability to get to the people. They always make votes. No crowd can resist the appeal or the logic of their message. They are for the plain people. Indications are the people will retaliate against such a press as we now have. Everywhere they see the injustice of it—the unfairness.

For instance, the other day at Cisco the Dallas News said Jim had to be assisted from the platform. This supposedly great newspaper said that he was exhausted. From a corrupt source in Dallas came recently a story on the Texas leased wire that Mrs. Ferguson would in all probability retire from the race. They were even betting and giving great odds she would withdraw in favor of another candidate. Over in Houston Mayor Holcombe is supporting Mrs. Ferguson and has declared for her. Men and women throughout the state who are supporting the Fergusons are declaring for her daily. When Jim spoke at Cisco R. Q. Lee, one of the great and good men of the south sent a message that he was detained on business and expressed his regrets he could not be present to announce his support of Governor Ferguson. There is no outlet for the truth about the Ferguson candidacy through the daily press. If Mr. Lee or Mayor Holcombe or dozens of others had come out for Moody or Davidson there would have been a great display in the press. We call upon the Ferguson people everywhere to guard against the campaign of abuse and misrepresentation.

Glad to hear former Governor James E. Ferguson come out flat against the sale of the penitentiary lands. The governor vetoed this bill at the last session of the Legislature. Jim told the folks at Rockdale that this attempted steal was as scandalous as "Teapot Dome" and was engineered by land sharks and the big oil companies. They have good reasons to believe that the penitentiary lands are underlaid with oils. A provision in the bill vetoed by the governor retained the mineral rights to the oil, or had a provision in it that said that the state could if it so elected. The interests of the state are never safe in some people's hands and to negotiate a deal of this kind, we want to know who is to handle it.

It would cost the state many millions to relocate the penitentiary. Nobody has made it pay but Jim. As long as he is in we have no doubts about the financial success of the system. The penitentiary as now located does not bring to certain selfish business interests the amount of benefits they desire, and of course if the sale of the property should be authorized, it would develop that the state must pay an enormous price and considering that the system would require 80,000 acres of land, it is easy to visualize the "Teapot Dome" possibilities. We are thankful for a governor who had the courage to stand against this possibility.

STOCK LAW DEFEATED

The proposed stock law was defeated about two to one in the election held last Saturday. Returns from 37 boxes compiled give the vote as follows: For the Stock Law 345; against the stock law 724.

On account of the late arrival of the tabulated vote this paper will give complete vote and details next week.

GOVERNOR FERGUSON GREETED BY THOUSANDS AT ROCKDALE Party Bolters Will Vote In Democratic Primary SOLDIERS TO CELEBRATE; SANTA FE GIVES RATES

FERGUSON IS CHEERED DEFENDING GOVERNMENT

FORMER GOVERNOR GETS APPROVAL OF THOUSANDS WHO HEAR ROCKDALE SPEECH

The administration of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was defended with thousands applauding when former Gov. James E. Ferguson in a two hour speech brought the campaign fight to Milam County on Tuesday in an address at Fair Park in Rockdale.

The former governor and party, including Governor Ferguson arrived in Rockdale at 1:12 p. m. and was met by a cheering crowd at the station. Many farmers grasped the hand of the former governor.

H. C. Meyer, mayor of Rockdale was chairman of the reception committee and also presided at the meeting in Fair Park.

The pioneer concert band of Cameron led by J. T. Parma furnished music for the occasion.

More than 1700 automobiles were counted as they left the park enclosure after the speaking. The crowd has been variously estimated from 3500 to 8000. A slow rain that began falling early Tuesday kept thousands away from the meeting. In some sections heavy rains fell and roads were impassable.

The ceremonies at the park began at 3 o'clock sharp when H. C. Meyer introduced J. A. Humphries, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction who addressed the crowd in behalf of his campaign. Mr. Humphries will receive a large vote in Milam County.

Mr. Meyer then presented R. R. Tyson who in true turn introduced Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Mr. Tyson said that the Ferguson administration has been a success in every way; that Governor Ferguson has had the advice of the greatest statesman Texas ever produced, paying a high tribute to former governor Ferguson for his service to the people. Mr. Tyson drew long and continued applause when he said that James E. Ferguson those who toil. The audience was a friend to the farmers and all made up largely of farmers and their wives. The introductory speech of Mr. Tyson was eloquent and was thoroughly applauded.

Mrs. Ferguson spoke briefly, defending the right of women to hold office and asked for a second term. Her speech appears elsewhere in this issue.

JOE BAILEY WILL BE INVITED FOR ADDRESS

FERGUSON SUPPORTERS WANT FORMER SENATOR FOR SPEECH HERE

Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States Senator from Texas, will be invited to deliver an address in Cameron in the interest of the candidacy of Miriam A. Ferguson for governor.

Senator Bailey recently announced his support of the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson.

It was in Cameron that Senator Bailey opened his campaign for the United States Senate against Horace Chilton. He has many friends in this section who will be delighted to know that he is to be invited for an address here.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

Mrs. Kathryn Robbins has announced teachers examinations for Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3.

Legion Declines To Call Off Street Dance Despite Protest Of Preachers; War Veterans Deny Dances Are Bad

The American Legion has received a communication from the Pastors Association of Cameron containing a resolution attacking street dances held annually by the local post. Although the Legion is not named, a copy of the resolution was handed the Commander and one copy was presented to the Mayor.

The following is the communication of the Pastors Association and below is the reply of the Legion:

STATEMENT OF THE PREACHERS

"The Pastor's Association of Cameron (composed of the resident pastors of the evangelical churches) after conference together on the question of street dances come to the following conclusion:

"We believe that street dances are inimical to the civic and moral welfare of our city: That they attract a class of people (although they may be a minority of those participating) whose conduct sinks below the standard of decency and propriety: That such street dances are not desired by the citizens of our town, who are seeking to furnish the highest and most wholesome environment for our youth.

"We most respectfully submit these our views to any and all organizations contemplating sponsoring a street dance and to our Honorable Mayor, and most earnestly request that we may have their co-operation to the end, that in the future we may dispense with this form of entertainment.

E. S. HUTCHERSON.

J. P. LOVE.

R. S. MARSHALL.

H. G. KENNEY.

STATEMENT OF THE LEGION

"We respectfully beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of recent date wherein you signify your disapproval and protest of the proposed street dance to be given under the auspices of the American Legion on July 2nd and 3rd.

"We are very much surprised at your attitude in this matter, and assure you that this is the first intimation we have had of your disapproval of our annual street dance or frolic, for the benefit of our Legion boys. Owing to the large number participating in these dances it will be quite impossible to have same at any of the places or buildings where others go and dance, and then, too, our nicely paved streets are the logical place for such celebration. Being in the open, with police within call and where any form of rowdiness or boisterous conduct would be quickly stopped and with thousands of onlookers, it would seem that an affair of this kind would certainly more nearly come within your pleasure than dances at other and more private places.

"We respectfully remind you that weekly and semi-weekly dances are being held at other places, sponsored by those who make up the membership of clubs and social organizations, whose membership is composed of our very foremost citizens and members of your churches; that these dances held frequently, weekly and semi-weekly have continued for the past year or more, participated in almost exclusively by church members, and as we have never heard of any objection raised by you to same, we were unaware of your disapproval of our street frolic.

"We respectfully call your attention further to the fact that the Legion frolics are held only once a year while dances referred to above are held weekly and sometimes more often; that we deny the charge that the conduct at these frolics is indecent or ever has been other than orderly and sane. While the street surface is not as smooth and polished as some floors on which weekly dances are held and on account of the large number who participate, the frolics may seem less beautiful to the "refined eye" but we assure you that the entertainment is thoroughly devoid of the degradation you impute to it.

"The American Legion men who were patriotic enough and brave enough to offer their lives in defense of the country that guarantees to them liberty and the pursuit of happiness, do not agree that this censure of their entertainment is warranted and they most respectfully appeal to that admiration accorded them when they marched away to war. Nothing was too good for them then and they believe they are as good now as they were when they fought for many who stayed at home.

"In view of the above facts and further that we have already perfected our arrangements, we do not see our way clear at this time to change our plans for the July celebration.

Respectfully submitted,
Entertainment Committee American Legion.

JURY SELECTED FOR TRIAL SLEDGE HOUSTON

KLAN ISSUE RAISED IN CASE NOW BEING TRIED AT BELTON

A jury in the trial of Sledge Houston now in progress at Belton was completed Wednesday.

Taking testimony was to begin on Thursday morning. The Klan issue is being strongly injected into the trial.

The jury selected is composed of W. M. Smith, farmer, Belton; W. T. Bell, farmer, Nolanville; W. A. Hayes, ranchman, Youngsfort; M. Northern, farmer, Nolanville; Gue Whitlow, farmer, Bartlett; D. A. Dykes, farmer, Sparta; L. E. Teaff, farmer, Edinburg; A. B. Moore, farmer, Temple; Marvin V. Ferguson, ranchman, Kilbuck; Herman Persky, farmer, Holland; W. F. Wurtz, farmer, Holland; F. L. Wood, farmer, Villas.

There was a lively tilt this afternoon between L. W. Williams of the prosecution and W. W. Hair of the defense over the klan issue being injected into the questioning of veniremen. The man on the stand had admitted that he was a klanman and Mr. Williams had read a portion of the klanman's oath. The witness pointed out that murder was an exception of the obligation to stick by a fellow klan member. But the prosecution pointed out that the oath said "malicious murder" and asked if the fact that the defendant was a klanman, if it should so develop in the case would not make him biased in his favor in weighing the evidence.

Mr. Hair objected to this line of questioning which was being pursued upon the assumption that the defendant is or was a klanman. "The defendant is not a klanman," he said, "and the klan issue has nothing to do with this case. It was a matter of personal and political differences between them. The court has no right to assume the defendant a klanman." Mr. Hair pointed out that the principle that a man is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty should apply.

Mrs. Eyard of Milano was in Cameron Monday.

LEGION CELEBRATION TO BRING THOUSANDS

OLD FIDDLERS COMING HERE FOR CONTEST—RODEO TO REVIVE OLD WEST

A revival of the old west and a season of southern melodies played by old time fiddlers are promised in the coming Legion celebration in Cameron on Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3.

J. L. Clinton manager for the fiddlers contest, is receiving letters from various parts of the state from old fiddlers desiring to enter the contest here in which near $300 in prizes is offered.

H. M. Akers has engaged the Geo. Koy Rodeo train from Sealy, Texas and promises the people a revival of the old west in the colorful days of the open range. There will be four rodeo performances.

Hon. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. College will deliver a patriotic address on Saturday July 3 at the court house.

At night on the pavement around the court house square will be given the annual street dances of the Legion. This big entertainment always attracts thousands of people and this year music is to be furnished by Parma's Pioneer Concert Band. The Legion has secured permission to use the streets and will hold the biggest dance celebration in the history of the post. There will be a big dance each night, as well as rodeo and fiddlers contest. Three entertainments will be necessary to take care of the crowds.

It has been announced that the Santa Fe railroad will give excursion rates to Cameron for the two day celebration and State Wide Fiddlers Contest July 2 and 3.

M. W. Manning, agent says the road has authorized rates of one and one tenth fare for the celebration and return. On account of the state wide fiddlers contest these rates will greatly assist those who come from a distance on points covered by the Santa Fe System.

STATEMENT ISSUED ON NEED OF SANITATION

DR. LELAND DENSON SETS OUT PLANS FOR PREVENTION OF DISEASE

Co-operation will make Cameron the cleanest town in Texas in which to live says Dr. Leland Denson with the city government in its campaign for better health.

"Cameron Should Know" is the preface to the following statement issued Wednesday for the benefit of the citizens:

"That there are now three cases of typhoid fever in the town; that for the last 23 years there has not been a summer that has passed without at least one case of typhoid fever in the town. These are only the cases treated by one doctor. This same doctor states that he has treated at least fifty cases in the same small part of town in the last 23 years. The fatality from this disease averages from 5 per cent to 35 per cent. 99 per cent of these cases could have been prevented if Cameron had only been interested. Why should the people of Cameron who know stand idly by and let those who know not suffer? and not only that, but endanger the whole community?"

"Cameron has a City Council, Mayor and a City Health officer who realize the danger and are spending money and time to see that fatality from preventable diseases is kept at a minimum. The State Health Department is doing many chemical analyses and is spending much money in helping Cameron. Dr. A. S. Epperson, City

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE HOLDS SESSION MONDAY

TICKET SLATE COMPLETED AND FILING FEES FIXED BY COMMITTEE

Voters who bolted the primary election pledge in 1924 and supported George Butte, republican for governor, will not be barred from the Democratic primary in Milam County in 1926.

The Democratic Executive Committee in session here Monday with Chairman W. G. Gillis presiding made up the ticket and fixed the filing fees for the candidates.

No mention was made of party bolters and the committee session was harmonious.

Mrs. Ida Hennington who announced as a candidate for county superintendent of public instruction, did not file her name for the ballot. This leaves Mrs. Kathryn Robbins without opposition for a second term.

The committee session was held at 2 p. m. Monday in the district court room at the court house.

The following schedule of fees was adopted by the committee:

|------------------|----------|
| Justice of Peace | $ 10.00 |
| Constable | 10.00 |
| Public Weigher | 25.00 |
| Commissioner | 50.00 |
| Treasurer | 100.00 |
| County Judge | 125.00 |
| Tax Assessor | 100.00 |
| District Clerk | 150.00 |
| Representative | 10.00 |

All other candidates will be required to pay $170.00.

Payments of filing fees, according to Chairman Gillis must be made on or before the 28th day of June.

The committee will place the Democratic test on the ballot as usual. This pledge reads as follows: "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."

Speaking of the report of expenditures Chairman Gillis requested the press to say that the first report to be filed by candidates must be made not more than 30 nor less than 25 days before July 24. A second report required must be made not more than 12 nor less than 8 days from the date of election. The third and final report of expenditures must be made not less than 10 days after the election.

Among the out of town guests here for the Wine-Wiley wedding were Mrs. L. B. Wine, Miss Carolyn Wine, Randolph Wine, William Engle and J. A. Bell, Misses Lola Swimbrod and Rosine Ledbetter and others of San Antonio, Misses Ellie Hinton of Valley Mills and Alice Bennett of Angleton.

Health Officer, is spending much of his valuable time in supervising the work. All these efforts are not going to show the effects that they should unless absolute co-operation is received from the citizenship of the town.

"Has everyone in your family been vaccinated against typhoid fever in the last three years? If not, it should be done immediately. That is what might be termed an absolute guarantee against the disease for a period of three years, and no insurance was ever more valuable or cheaper. Do you drink well water? These analyses should be run regularly. Any information about how to collect and send in samples can easily be obtained by calling 21 and asking for Leland Denson. If there is a surface toilet on your premises it should be done away with immediately. Information as to how to remedy this cheaply and efficiently can be obtained in the same way as above.

"Please see that the above defects are remedied as soon as possible and help your City Officers and the State Board of Health make Cameron a City that is safe to live in."

JOHN H. BICKETT IS RECOVERING

JOHN BICKETT NO 6 --- 123 12121
FORMER SHERIFF OF MILAM
COUNTY SPEAKS OF OLD TIMES

The following clipping from the Texas Highway Bulletin will be of interest to the friends of State Highway Commissioner John H. Bickett, who is now recuperating from a severe illness at his home in San Antonio:

State Highway Commissioner John H. Bickett, while in his office, State Highway Department, Austin, recently grew reminiscent for a few minutes, recalling some of the interesting events that he has known during the past thirty-six years of his official life.

"I was elected sheriff of Milam County, thirty-six years ago, he said as he sat at his desk over which hangs the official proclamation of the Governor, of his appointment as a State Highway Commissioner."

"Jim Hogg was governor when I was elected first sheriff of Milam County," mentioned Mr. Bickett, and I was in close touch with him during his administration. On down the years Commissioner John Bickett has known and kept in official association with the governors of Texas—Always an advocate of strict economy, and an exponent of the doctrine of honest labor in all service, he has lived an active life. His interest in the administration of the State Highway Department affairs, takes him over a large portion of the State. Speaking of highway matters he mentioned that there had been a great deal of work to do in all sections following the season of heavy rainstorms which have prevailed. During the month of April and May, he has made several tours of inspection over various stretches of State Highways looking to the improvement of these. Kendall and Kerr counties have been included in the itinerary of the inspection. The 1926 highway program, according to Commissioner Bickett will keep all hands busy.

CHEVROLET MAKES ANOTHER RECORD IN PRODUCTION

Another monthly production record for Chevrolet motor cars was shattered in May, when the Chevrolet Motor Company produced 74,617 automobiles the largest single month's production in the history of the company.

This production also constitutes the largest single month's production of modern three-speed transmission cars by any manufacturer in the automobile industry, and is an increase of 21,620 cars over May, 1925, when 52,997 cars were produced. With sales continuing to break all previous records, the production of Chevrolet cars for 1926 is expected to total approximately 700,000, as compared with 519,060 cars made during 1925.

During the first five months of 1926, up to the first of June, a total of 307,332 Chevrolet cars were produced, a ninecrease of 102,444 cars over the same period in 1925, when total production reached 194,888 units. Sales will continue to break precedents throughout the summer months, Chevrolet sales officials predict.

"Our constant endeavor to improve our product, taking advantage of the most modern appliances known in the automobile industry, with never-relaxing vigilance on maintenance of quality, is meeting with the sincere appreciation of the public," said W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

"The $10,000,000 expansion program of the company, providing facilities for production of one million Chevrolet cars during 1927, is well under way at this time, with ground broken and building additions being made at Chevrolet plants throughout the country. Machinery necessary for the increase in our production is now in transit from the manufacturers, and by January 1, the company will be fully prepared to go ahead with its enlarged program."

A comparison of monthly production records for the first five months of 1926 with the same period in 1925 follows: Total during 1925, 194,888; and total for 1926 is 307,332.

FORMER REPRESENTATIVE WRITES

Willis, Texas
June 20, 1926

Editor Herald,

I am glad to get your paper as it seems like a letter from home. I am over in the piney woods on a poultry farm with a man that has over a thousand white Leghorn hens and it has about made a chicken crank out of me. I surely enjoy feeding these hens and gathering up the eggs. I would like very much to be in the poultry business some place where there is a market for eggs; if I had known some years ago what I know now I would have had a small poultry farm.

I don't know how long I will be here as I have most of my household goods still in old Milam but I am getting experience here that I hope to be able to use for myself some time in the future.

I must say I am glad to see the Cameron Herald come out boldly for Ma for governor as I feel sure we have had as good, if not a better administration than we could have expected from anyone.

As to Moody, I wonder if the people of Texas remember that he told them two years ago that if he was elected Attorney General that he would reduce the expense of that office and then I wonder if they know that he went before the Appropriation Committee and ask that the ten employees (assistants) in his office get a raise of salary of from thirty-six hundred dollars a year to four thousand; then I wonder if he would reduce the expense of the state in the same way if he were elected governor.

There are a good many K. K. K.'s here in this County and I don't think they are dead by any means, while they can not wear the mask, still watch them and you will notice they are lined up to a man against anyone who is known to be against them, so this accounts for the bitter fight against Jim Ferguson.

Boy's do not be misled; Jim Ferguson is a friend to the people of Texas and is honest and trustworthy and will always be found battling for what he thinks is right. Vote for Ma and you will be glad you did.

Respectfully,
D. S. HOLLOWELL.

RUPTURE Expert Here

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted expert, will personally be at the Martin hotel, and will remain in Temple this Monday only, June 28th, r. Seeley says:

"The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations, specially solicited). This instrument received the reward in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions.

Caution—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or webbing with under straps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

AB. HUMPHRIES BEGINS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR STATE EDUCATION BOARD

J. A. (Ab) Humphries of Hockley county, formerly for a number of years a citizen of Bell county, where he held several important offices and made a record for efficiency, thrift and ability that won him hosts of friends, is now actively waging his campaign for the nomination as state superintendent of public instruction, to succeed S. M. N. Marrs.

Mr. Humphries recently visited Fayette county and met the voters of that great county, and the Fayette County Record of La Grange has this to say about him:

"J. A. Humphries of Hockley county, a practical school man, a man of many years of experience, has announced his candidacy for the office of S. M. N. Marrs, incumbent, who is running for a third term. Mr. Humphries gave out his platform last week, and is now making an aggressive campaign, which he expects to continue until the votes are counted and he has been nominated to the important office to which he aspires.

"Mr. Humphries promises co-operation with the governor and other departments in the administration of the office of superintendent, that which is sorely lacking in the Marrs regime. We have had the pleasure of making Mr. Humphries' acquaintance and to discuss with him the problems of education, especially rural schools, and we are glad to say that his program, put into effect, would do more for the education of the children of the rural districts than any so far advanced."

FERGUSON SEES VICTORY FOR A SECOND TERM

SAYS MOODY CAMPAIGN OF HATE IS BREAKING DOWN

The Moody hate campaign is blowing up. Regardless of what the Ferguson family may have done, the intelligent voter is fast coming to the conclusion that there has been no good reason offered for a change, by not giving Ma a second term.

From Corpus Christi I went to the Rio Grande Valley country, which is now becoming one of the richest farming countries in the whole world. I arrived at Harlingen on Sunday morning, where I was met by a committee composed of the Stuart boys, who are perhaps the largest individual farmers in the Harlingen section, and there were in the party Oscar Dancy, now county judge of Cameron County, and Judge A. M. Kent, district judge, Jim Fox, tax collector, and my young friends, Carter and Sternberg, and also my good friend John Myrick, one of the prominent lawyers of that section. My old school comrade friend, Jim Bishop, now county auditor, was on hand, and John Scanlon, the district clerk, was there too, and all gave me the glad hand and welcomed me to the valley.

Before I arrived they had formed a Ma Ferguson club composed of 50 of the best people in Cameron county and they agreed to work from now until election day to roll up the biggest majority for Ma that has ever been given any governor.

My first speaking date was at McAllen in Hidalgo county. The meeting was presided over by the mayor and was introduced by my old time friend, Judge J. E. Leslie. There was at least 4,000 people in the audience which included many people from adjoining counties. A large delegation headed by my friends, the Guerra boys, was on hand from Starr county. The Guerras are influential people and they assured me that Ma would get 95 per cent of the votes in Starr county.

I had a very enthusiastic crowd. When I began to discuss and read Dan Moody's war record about 20 ruffians began to shout "Hurrah for Moody." They tried to break up the meeting, but the audience was so overwhelming against them that they had to shut up.

The next day I spoke to about 3,000 people in the Harlingen Fair grounds grand stand. Judge Dancy presided and Bob Stuart introduced me.

In my feeble, stammering way I defended the governor's administration, and paid my respects to Dan Moody. As soon as I began to read Dan's war record another bunch of ruffians, about 20 in number, over half of which were drunk, began to raise another disturbance. The remarkable thing about these hecklers is that they begin just as they did in Houston, when I began to read the certified Washington records on Dan's war record. Just as soon as I started reading they began to howl like a cur dog that had been scalded with hot water.

The leader of the gang was an ex-convict who had been convicted for disloyalty to the government during the war and sentenced to the penitentiary for 25 years and was pardoned by Hobby after a little over a year's service. It is astonishing how these slackers stick together.

Of the 10,000 votes in Cameron and Hidalgo counties my wife will get 7,000 and Lynch Davidson will get 1,500 and Moody will get 1,500. Just keep this prediction for future reference.

I came bac home and spent one day in Austin. It is now openly admitted that Moody is losing his lead in Austin. The Moody woman's club in Austin has almost broken up in a row and they are no longer active.

My next date was at Cleburne. My old time stand by friends, Jim Gray and Frank West and their good wives, were at the depot to meet me. The continued loyalty of these (what I call my pistol pocket) friends is an inspiration that keeps a man going when the road sometimes gets rocky and hard to travel. Judge Chrisman was also there and introduced me to the audience of 5,000 people. Senator Ward also made a speech.

Koss Barry was there from Bosque county. My old time friend B. W. Morris from Hood county was there and sat on the platform and told me that God had already predestined Ma to be elected and for me not to worry. The statement pleased me, for you know I believe that the Hardshell Baptist has about 95 per cent the best of the argument when we come to talk about the power and providence of God.

Most of the Cleburne crowd was farmers, but there were many Santa Fe employes also on hand. I am sure Ma will carry Johnson county by 600 majority and our friends think that we will carry Cleburne for the first time.

From Cleburne I went to Arlington, between Dallas and Fort Worth, for a night date. Web Rose and my friend Coulter headed a committee to bring me from Cleburne about 40 miles.

The Arlington crowd was easily 7,500. There were 1,872 automobiles driven into the park and 400 more could not get in for lack of room.

This crowd was attentive and respectful. The people are intensely interested in the discussion of the issues.

People are fast learning that the highway explosion was hatched by Moody, and his friends for political purposes without any cause or excuse or facts to support it.

I then went to Waco for a Friday night date. A large committee headed by V. V. Warwick met me at the train.

I spoke on the court house lawn. There were friends from every county adjoining McLellan. The crowd was easily 8,000. The Fort Worth Star Telegram admitted there was 4,000 and that ought to prove my statement of 8,000. The audience was a mixed audience of farmers and laboring people. Lud Williams introduced me. He is another friend that has been with me ever since 1914. Waco is a big K. K. town and they are still trying to keep the organization together.

When I began to read Moody's war record another crowd of ruffians began to howl again, as they did in other places. There was fully 100 who seemed to be bent on breaking up the meeting. We had a stormy time for a while, but the crowd was with us 10 to 1 and after telling them that they were a bunch of Ku Klux cowards that they were supporting a slacker, they shut up and I proceeded with my speech.

I am frank to admit that Moody will carry the city of Waco by 2,000 majority. But Ma will offset this in the county when the farmer vote come in.

Waco is the home of the modern evolution theory taught by the silk stocking Baptist who admit they come from a tadpole or a monkey, and of course they are strong for Moody. It is the same crowd that wants to turn Frank Norris out of the Baptist church because he preaches that God made man in his own image at the time He created the heavens and the earth.

I then went to Hillsboro for a Saturday afternoon date. The district court room which is the largest one in Texas, was jammed to full capacity. I have not lost a friend in Hill county. My old time friend P. S. Jackson, presided at the meeting and flow-ers from a sweet little girl, whose name I missed, were given to me to take to Ma. Every time the governor's name is mentioned the audience applauds to the echo. I believe my wife's name will go down in history as one of the great governors of the state. She has already skinned me a city block and I used to think I was some punkin. The governor will carry Hill county by 800.

I went to Corsicana for a Saturday night date. My old time friends King and Pickston carried me to Corsicana. This date was perhaps one of the most successful meetings of the week. Hon. D. Mayes was on the platform and is supporting the governor actively. Judge Gus Blackmon from Limestone county was there and Judge Kirby came with him. They say that the governor will carry Limestone county by 700. Col. T. N. Jones of Tyler was there. Many friends from Henderson county were there. Senator Roy Hardin from Kaufman was there.

Judge Hawkins Scarbrough presided and made one of the best 30 minute speeches that I have ever heard in many a day.

I was introduced by Judge Gus Mayes, an overseas soldier, who is supporting the governor actively. Gus Mayes is one of the coming young lawyers of Texas and he does not hesitate to say that he cannot approve Dan Moody's war record. He knows. He was there when Dan was not.

The governor will carry Navarro county and Corsicana by 1,500 majority.

Sol Gotlieb says he is for the Ferguson because the state gets two governors for the price of one.

I am going west next week. Again I say the majority is going to be big.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles T. Wintz, of R. F. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix. I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it."

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I would not be without Black-Draught. I can eat anything I want to. If I get dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

FLOWERS GIVEN GOV. FERGUSON AT TAYLOR PRESENTED TO PATIENT IN CAMERON HOSPITAL TUESDAY

A large bouquet of flowers given Mrs. Ferguson by supporters in Taylor as the governor's party passed through that city on the way to Rockdale Tuesday, were presented by the Governor to Mrs. Ralph Larrieu of Rockdale who is a patient in the Cameron Hospital.

The flowers were brought here at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Larrieu who is a prominent member of the American Legion in Rockdale.

The flowers were in a large three foot basket and a card tied to the basket had these words inscribed on it: "From your Loyal Supporters in Dan's Home Town."

The flowers were given to Mrs. Ferguson when about 1,000 Ferguson supporters in the city of Taylor met the train as it passed through the city. The governor was highly pleased with the gift and expressed her desire that the flowers, large red and pink lilies with fern, should go to the hospital.

FERGUSON CHEERED DEFENDING GOVERNMENT

issue of the Herald. She said that the attack is made on her husband and that "He can defend himself," introducing him to the audience.

A section of the platform which was crowded to capacity collapsed just as Governor Ferguson began her speech. No one was injured and the speech was resumed.

James E. Ferguson then began his speech. As the former governor stepped forward a great cheer went up from the throng and after a few moments he raised his hand to still the enthusiasm and then launched into his address.

The former governor departed somewhat from his set speeches, particularly in reference to the validation of bonds. The governor is not for repudiation as the press would indicate but there exists a wide difference of opinion as to the method to be pursued. The former governor wants the people who owe the bonds to vote on whether they will stand behind the bonds. He pointed out that the state nor the governor owes these obligations, only the districts that are incorporated and that have issued these obligations.

Mr. Ferguson was wildly cheered as he attacked Dan Moody as an ignoramus and unfit to be governor. He read the attorney general's war record and attacked the Williamson county youth on his settlement of the American Road Company suit.

He touched at length upon the highway department, defending the contracts. This explanation seemed to satisfy the thousands who heard it and he was given generous applause. Milam county has received many benefits in the way of improved roads from the Ferguson administration.

The defense of the pardon record was cheered as the former governor told of the enforcement of the law for the rich and against the poor; how that the father taken away from the little mother and children pays for some minor crime. He told of their plight, how that after all hope of combating the unequal struggle the mother gives up and falls ill. Neighbors bring in something to eat and clothes and finally someone remembers that a Christian mother sits in the governor's chair and a petition is brought down. The governor does what Christ did while He was on earth and says "Go thy way and sin no more." The father is restored to the bosom of his family and hunger is again driven away. Many shed tears when the former governor defended the pardon record. The audience also showed great emotion when Ferguson described the sacrifices made by the farm boys in going to war while Dan Moody "wanted to stay at home and run for governor some day."

It was a Ferguson crowd. Practically all of those attending the meeting stayed until the end. There was no heckling.

The former governor was cheered as he told of putting the state back on a cash basis, promising a 25c reduction in state taxes next year and $15 per capita for the country school children of Texas.

Ferguson left Rockdale for a tour of east Texas in behalf of his wife's candidacy for governor.

The Thursday breakfast club enjoyed their weekly sunrise breakfast at River Beach last Thursday morning. Members of the club are ex-members of the Cameron Camp Crowd and their guests. Among those present last Thursday morning was Mrs. W. T. Hefley of Waco.

Mrs. Walter Hutcherson and baby son, Edward, after a pleasant visit to Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Hutcherson left Monday for their home in Palestine.

H. W. Benefield, Floyd Benefield and Mr. Roberson of Rogers were transacting business in Cameron Wednesday.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

"Tiz" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters and bunions.

"Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "Tiz" brings restful foot comfort. "Tiz" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a box of "Tiz" now from any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.

Too Much Meat Hurts Kidneys

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you.

Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up, and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so that it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure any one; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

Have Kidneys Examined By Your Doctor

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

FORMER CAMERON PASTOR HONORED IN AWARD OF PRIZES FOR SONGS

Rev. H. R. McFayden of Old Hickory, Tennessee, and former pastor of the Presbyterian church in Cameron, has been awarded third prize in a song writing contest conducted by the Homiletic Review. This is the annual Hymn Contest. The first prize went to Prof. H. H. Tweedy of Yale, and the second prize was awarded to Harry W. Farrington of New York.

The Review is now offering a prize of $50 for a tune for this song.

MRS. M. J. JOHNSON IS BURIED AT CORINTH

AGED PIONEER MOTHER LAID TO REST AFTER LONG AND USEFUL LIFE

The funeral of Mrs. M. J. Johnson was conducted by Rev. R. S. Marshall pastor of the Cameron Methodist church, at the Corinth Cemetery at 3 p. m. Thursday, June 24, 1926. A large concourse of friends and acquaintances attended. Many beautiful flowers were sent as tributes of esteem. The funeral was conducted by Green Bros. funeral directors.

Mr. J. W. Johnson of Charlie, Clay county, Messrs. E. R. Johnson, B. F. Johnson, J. A. L. Johnson of Cleveland, Mrs. Len Elliott of Shamrock, Mrs. Hattie Walston of Minerva, Mrs. Alma Durham of Electra, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Finch of Elgin were among the relatives here for the funeral.

Mrs. Johnson was born February 2, 1849 in Florida but her parents moved to Alabama when she was very young. Her maiden name was Melissa Jane Hudson and she was married to Andrew Jackson Johnson near Montgomery, Alabama, December 24, 1871. They came to Texas, landing in Galveston November 4, 1871 and lived in many places in Texas.

They came to Milam County and lived for twenty years on the old Dobbins Ranch on South Elm. Mr. Johnson died here in 1911. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had ten children five sons, J. W., E. R., B. F., J. A. L., and Thomas J. Johnson who is now with the United States Army and five daughters, Mary, who died at the age of seventeen, Lou, Hattie, Alma, Patsy and Ellis. Nine of these children survive.

After the death of her husband Mrs. Johnson went to Cleveland to live with her three sons and there she fell asleep seated in her rocking chair Tuesday afternoon, June 22, 1926. She had been in feeble health for some time.

Mrs. Johnson was a member of the Methodist church, and her life was full of good works.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clear and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Episcopal congregation will worship with the Methodist next Sunday morning, as Mr. Love is serving in Mr. Marshall's pulpit at that time.

Miss Rosine Ledbetter of San Antonio came for the wedding of her friend, Miss Ruth Wiley on Wednesday.

Mrs. Fannie Allen, who left Cameron to live with her daughter, Mrs. N. O. Kennedy in Robstown, has returned for a visit to her many friends here and in Ben Arnold where she lived for several years. She is pleased with her new home but loves her old friends in Milam County.

THE BASIC TROUBLE WITH AMERICAN AGRICULTURE

Many Mythical Causes Given But the Chief Financial Problem Rises From Inflation of Capital Account Based on War Prices—Remedy Pointed Out—“Trick Legislation” Will Not Help.

By MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
First Vice President American Bankers Association.

IN recent years agriculture and the welfare of the farmer have been our most fruitful topics of conversation. Political fortunes have revolved around the unhappy situation of the farmer and the business barometer has gone up and down with varying proposals for his relief. Only a few years ago there was widespread feeling voiced by the leading agriculturists that the time was fast approaching when America would not be able to feed its rapidly increasing population unless there was improvement in soil culture, fertilization, reforestation and larger production. What is the situation now? The worry seems no longer to be for food for the hungry millions but for more millions to consume our tons of food.

Evangelists of despair have talked so much about over-production and surplus of agricultural products since 1920 that we are warranted in calling attention to a fact or two which may be enlightening to those who have felt that there has been a crushing surplus of the staples of the farm. From 1911 to 1915 average production of cotton was 14,175,000 bales at an average price of 12.41 cents per pound, while from 1921 to 1925 production averaged 11,362,000 bales at an average price of 21.85 cents per pound. In the 1911-1915 period wheat production averaged 806,358,000 bushels at an average price of 89 cents, while in 1921-1925 the average production was 804,384,900 bushels at a $1.11½ average; in the former period corn averaged 2,754,000,000 bushels at 60.3 cents while in the latter the average was 2,873,000,000 at 69.6 cents. Cattle on farms for 1911-1915 were 37,178,000 at an average estimated price of $26.52 while in the latter period the annual average was 41,616,000 at $26.08. Hogs on farms in the first period were 63,151,000 at an average price of $9.58 per head, and in the latter 60,418,000 at $11.34.

The Surplus Production Myth

From these figures, which eliminate the period that embraced the war and the early post-war inflation, it will be observed that, with the exception of cotton and cattle, production has been almost uniform in the two periods. In no case has production anywhere approached an increase commensurate with the increase in population. So-called surplus production is largely a myth and the cause of the farmer's complaint must be looked for in some other direction. It must be admitted that all has not been and is not well with this industry. After all, what is the matter with agriculture? There are a few facts which seem obvious as a part at least of the underlying causes of the situation and which suggest something of the remedy that sooner or later must be applied.

Present difficulties had their inception largely in inflation of prices for agricultural products from 1915 to 1920 with consequent large expansion of profits. This led inevitably with the farmer as with the manufacturer to expansion of plant and equipment—the requirement by the individual of larger acreage and modern, if not always efficient, machinery. These statements do not apply to every one because there are always some who play safely and conservatively, proved by the fact that there are millions of farmers who have gone through the recent crisis without any difficulty and are today prosperous and contented. In fact the complaints today are coming from less than 25 per cent of the farmers of the country and from the hordes of politicians who are seeking to make capital out of the situation.

Results of Inflation and Expansion

With the average and with the majority of those who were swept off their feet by the wave of prosperity through which they were passing, let us analyze the results of this inflation and expansion. The farmer operating on land that he was carrying in his capital account at a value of, say, $100 per acre, and who perhaps had a loan of $50 an acre, suddenly found that, because of the increased profits from his operations, his land had a market value of $200 per acre and that, if he had a new tractor and some new farm machinery, he could greatly increase his production. But if he did that he would need a larger barn and more warehouse facilities. The chances are that with an appraisal of $200 per acre on his land he increased his loan to $100 per acre, thereby doubling his capital account and his bonded debt—not out of earnings but because of his ability to effect a “clean write-up” of 100 per cent of his plant account.

If he did not effect the doubling of his capital account in this manner, and if his $100 acre farm was clear, he probably bought his neighbor's farm for $200 per acre and mortgaged both the new and the old for $100 per acre. In this latter case, he increased his capital account 150 per cent.

It is easy to see what this did to his net percentage of income. If he had been able to make 6 per cent on his original investment, without any allowance for the increased cost of operations which of course did take place, he cut his net income, based upon his capitalization, about one-half when he had completed his expansion program. But worse than that happened. His calculations had been made upon a price for his product which reflected wartime demand and buying power of government money which were suddenly curtailed. With demand gone and buying power withdrawn he found his gross selling price cut in two. His gross at the high figure had enabled him to make 3 per cent net on his new capitalization. This now was cut one-half by the reduction of his gross selling price and instead of making a 6 per cent return, as he was able to do perhaps on his original $100 acre farm, he has since been lucky if he has made 1½ per cent on his new capital account.

The Remedy

I am confident that something of this kind underlies 75 per cent of the present difficulty. How can it be remedied? I believe that time and intelligent hard work is the surest restorative of better conditions. No magic of trick legislation can accomplish the result. There are a few facts which must be faced and accepted before a start to better things can be made. The first and most important is recognition that farming never was, is not now, and I do not believe ever will be a so-called money-making proposition. By this I mean a business in which a man may engage with the certainty of being able over a period of years from the production and sale of farm commodities to accumulate great wealth.

There are those who will say that unless farming can be made a successful money-making proposition there is no hope for the future of the country. My argument with such people will turn on the correct definition of what is a satisfactory money-making business. I believe that if farming is intelligently and industriously followed it is a satisfactory business but I do not believe that it is sufficiently a money-making proposition to attract those who are ambitious to play for big fortunes.

There are those also who say that many men have grown rich in the past in agriculture. I do not think they have from the mere production and sale of farm commodities. The men who have grown rich in the past from agriculture have owed their success most largely to the ownership of what would now be considered very cheap lands, which over a period of years have shown quadruple and more appreciation in values.

The Advantages of Farm Life

But if agriculture does not mean great wealth, and it certainly does not involve a life of idleness, ease, or luxury, it does mean much more. It means if intelligently and industriously followed a character of independence vouchsafed to no other trade or profession. How do I know this? I know it by experience and I know it by observation. The farmers of today have more good, wholesome food than any man working on a salary of $2,500 per year can buy for his family and be able to pay his grocery bill without paying any other of his debts. The farmers who are complaining of their inability to make money enough to pay for their necessities of life are enjoying at home as a natural heritage of their business comforts and luxuries which the man in the industrial centers working for a salary is spending every dollar of his income to obtain and then is not getting anything commensurate with those enjoyed by the farmer.

It is these so-called unledged items of the farmer's income that are too often lost sight of in the calculations made by our reformer friends who would legislate a living wage and universal prosperity to those engaged in agriculture. If the farmer as a whole would be happy again he must take stock of his blessings and thank God for them, get rid of his quick doctors of political bunkum, revalue his plant and equipment, and start over again in full knowledge of the fact that he must face keen and effective competition, that he must work hard and intelligently, that he must calculate in his income inherent and undeniable items, which are not measured in dollars and cents.

When he does this, I feel perfectly certain that over a period of years, taking the good and the bad as it comes to all classes of business, he will find that he has lived well, that he has had a fair margin for the enjoyment of all the necessities of life and a surplus for those luxuries which he has a right to claim, and above all, that he will have had a chance to be an independent individual, a real man and a self-respecting citizen.

FERGUSON NOT FOR REPUDIATING BONDS; POINTS WAY OUT; SAYS LET PEOPLE WHO OWE THEM PAY; WANTS HONESTY

Austin, Tex., June 21.—Texas road district bonds can be validated only by vote of the people in the districts involved, James E. Ferguson declared today.

“What I want and what the governor wants is to pass a law referring the question of validating these bonds back to the people and if they then vote to validate these bonds then the objection raised by the supreme court of the United States has been met, and the credit of the state has been restored,” he said.

Validity of $100,000,000 bonds was jeopardized by the decision of the U. S. supreme court in the Archer county case.

The former governor's statement, explaining his speech at Wichita Falls last week follows in part:

“The bond validation crowd are attempting to misrepresent the governor's attitude on the issue. The supreme court of the United States held that the Archer county bonds were void and unconstitutional. This being so I was eminently correct when I said the court had held that the people do not owe these bonds. If the court has not said so then what is the validation crowd kicking about?

“I repeat that these bonds can not be validated without the vote of the people. This bill submitted by the eastern bond attorneys to the governor does not provide for a vote of the people who live in the districts in which the bonds were issued.”

“If Kemp and Moody want to say that the people should not be given a chance to pass on this question, then let them say so and then the people will know where to place them. They propose something that does not meet the objection of the supreme court and that also seeks to deprive the people of each road district of a right which the court says can not be taken away from them.

“The Kemp-Moody crowd proposes no legal validation while the governor proposes legal validation. That is the difference. At the proper time the legislature can take care of this campaign.

“If these bond buyers and bond brokers will stop slandering the state by talking about repudiation, nobody else will think about it.”

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

A joint Resolution relating to the amending of Article 16, Section 58, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners; providing for the supervision and management of the Prison System, under such laws as may be provided for by the Legislature.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That article 16, Section 58 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 58. The Legislature shall have full power and authority to provide by law for the management and control of the Prison System of Texas; and to this end shall have power and authority to place the Prison System under the supervision, management and control of such trained and experienced officer, or officers as the Legislature may from time to time provide for by law.

Section 2. The above Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held November 3, 1926, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the words “For the amendment of Article 16, Section 58, of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.” And all those opposing said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the words “Against the amendment of Article 16, Section 58, of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners.”

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by law.

Section 4. The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the funds in the Treasury of the State, and not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Approved April 4, 1925.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7.

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 33 and Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of Texas so as to permit officers of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, to hold public office in Texas.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 33 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

“The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury in favor of any person, for salary or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States; except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the Treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States.”

Section 2. That Section 40 of Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

“No person shall hold or exercise, at the same time, more than one civil office of emolument, except that of Justice of the Peace, County Commissioner, Notary Public and Postmaster, officer of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, unless otherwise specially provided herein. Provided, that nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit an officer, or enlisted man of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, or an officer in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, or an enlisted man in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, from holding in conjunction with such office any other office or position of honor, trust or profit, under this State or the United States.

Section 3. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday in November A. D. 1926, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

“For the Constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States,” and:

“Against the Constitutional amendment permitting officers and enlisted men of the National Guard, and the National Guard Reserve, and officers of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, and enlisted men of the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, to hold other offices or positions of honor, trust or profit under this state or the United States.”

Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary Proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The expense of publication and election for such amendment shall be paid out of proper appropriation made by law.

Approved, March 16, 1925.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

A resolution proposing an amendment to Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by changing Section 3, eliminating the provision authorizing the Legislature to create special districts and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution be so changed as to read as follows: (creating new section.)

“Section 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State Occupation taxes and poll tax of one dollar on every inhabitant of the State, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents in the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general laws; and all such school districts may embrace parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts; and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and for the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided that a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax not to exceed in any 1 year one ($1.00) dollar on the hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts, nor to independent or common school districts created by general or special law.”

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1926, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, “For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas eliminating the provision which authorizes the Legislature to create special school districts,” and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, “Against the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas eliminating the provision which authorizes the Legislature to create special school districts.”

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. That the sum of two ($2,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Approved, April 4, 1925.

Texas Lady Tells How She Got Rid of Her Troubles.

"The first time I took Cardui, I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Cardie, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas.

"I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. My mother had some Cardui in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right."

"Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer with . . . I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it."

"Almost from the first dose I could feel the improvement. . . I am much better now."

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall."

"My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up, for in the fall I had no relish for food at all, while now I'm hungry for my meals."

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

A SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL

We have just closed one of the best Revivals in the history of the church. It was not the longest meeting in the history of the church, neither was there a greater number of additions than has been had at some other meetings but many have said that it was one of the best Revivals they had attended.

The meeting was launched strictly on the basis of prayer and faith in the work of the Spirit of God and our faith was well rewarded. The meeting lasted only 11 days but the crowds were excellent and the work of the Spirit was evident. The following united with the church while the meeting was in progress:

"THE GOSPEL FOR THE EYE"

Drs. Gamble and Love wrote an interesting little book on the subject of, "The Gospel for the Eye," in which they discussed the Two Church Ordinances, baptism and the Lord's Supper.

Last Sunday night we had a packed house again to witness these Two Ordinances. There was not any preaching other than the witnessing of the Ordinance of Baptism which pictures the Burial and Resurrection of the Lord and the Lord's Supper which pictures the Broken Body and Spilt Blood of Him who was crucified for our Redemption.

A FORWARD STEP

The time has come when this church should pull up the stakes and move forward. The church is about the same size now, it was reported to be ten years ago. We need by faithful, prayerful and unselfish co-operation to go forward and go out after the lost in this community. God has set his approval on the work of the church many times and unquestionable the time to "Launch out in the Deep" is now.

ARE YOU CARRYING YOUR PART

Next Sunday will be the last Sunday in this month and that will be the last Sunday in the first half of the year and you should have by this time paid one-half of the pledge you made to the church.

If thus far you have not made a pledge to the church, then if you are for the World-Wide Program that this church is having part in, we invite you to voluntarily make a subscription to the church. And if you have made a subscription and have gotten behind with it please make arrangements to pay up by June 30th., which ends the first-half of the year.

Real soon, following that date you will get a statement from the treasurer of the church as to how much you have paid and whether or not you are behind.

We feel confident that you believe in the works of the church and we also feel sure that you are not willing to live off of and enjoy the things that others pay for, so if you are willing to carry your part, get into the Big Game and help us do it well.

VERY IMPORTANT MEETING

The Teachers and Officers of the Sunday School will have a very important meeting Friday night of this week. Let every one who is supposed to be there, be on hand in the Sunday School annex at 8 P. M. Friday.

The ladies of the Auxiliaries of the churches invite all the ladies of all the churches to a silver tea to be given for the purpose of raising funds for a vase shower for the Cameron Hospital, 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 29th, at the City Park. Come and enjoy a good program.

Bright Wings of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toll of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed untenanted by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling spinster went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, haymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled moustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife. In the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tyson spent the week end in the R. R. Tyson home.

MISS RUTH WILEY IS
BRIDE OF R. B. WINE

WEDDING OF POPULAR CAMERON GIRL SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY EVENING

The wedding of Miss Ruth Wiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wiley, and Mr. Russel Bruce Wine, prominent attorney of San Antonio, son of Mrs. Laura Bruce Wine, was solemnized at seven thirty o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Cameron. Rev. H. G. Kenney, pastor, officiated with the ring ceremony.

The altar was banked in ferns and large floor baskets of pink crepe myrtle gave a pleasant color note. The windows behind the chancel were draped with festoons of greenery. Wall vases of pink crepe myrtle and ferns were placed at intervals around the spacious auditorium and the pink maline and crepe myrtle.

A prenuptial musical with Miss Ellie Hinton of Valley Mills wearing a lace gown of coral georgette at the piano, Mrs. C. W. Bradbury wearing a becoming pink georgette costume with picture hat gave the beautiful "Romance in A" on the violin and played the obligatos for the vocal numbers. Miss Louise Adams wearing a rose georgette frock and becoming picture hat sweetly sang, "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told" before the entrance of the bride. During the ceremony the "Flower Song" was played and Mendelssohn's March was played for the recessional.

The bride entered with her sister, Miss Bess Wiley, the maid of honor. The bride's gown was of ashes of roses georgette with becoming hat and accessories in harmony. Her shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lillies of the valley was very beautiful. As a touch of sentiment embodying "Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue" the bride carried a point lace handkerchief made and carried by Mrs. George Childress, Sr. in her wedding.

The maid of honor, Miss Bess Wiley wore a frock of Lanvin green georgette with large picture hat and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

Two little flower girls, Misses Bess Mangum and Elizabeth Mangum wore dainty frocks of pink georgette lace trimmed with adorable pink poke bonnets. They carried nosegays of pink rosebuds.

The bridesmaids, Misses Carolyn Wine of San Antonio, and Alice Bennett of Angleton presented pictures of rare loveliness in frocks of blue and picture hats and nosegays of sweet peas and rosebuds.

The ushers were Mike Wiley and Randolph Wine of San Antonio, brothers of the bride and groom. The bridegroom was attended by William Engle of San Antonio as best man.

Immediately following the beautiful church ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Austin. They will go to Cloud Croft for their honeymoon and will be at home in San Antonio to their friends in three weeks.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Laura Bruce Wine, Miss Carolyn Wine, Mr. Randolph Wine, Mr. William Engle, Miss Rosine Ledbetter of San Antonio, Miss Ellie Hinton of Valley Mills, Miss Alice Bennett of Angleton, Miss Bess Wiley of San Marcos, Miss Louise Adams of Waco, Miss Minnie Young of Rockdale, Miss Gertie Graves of Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Young of Granger.

DR. J. J. DAWSON IS DEAD; BURIAL FRIDAY

SOMERVILLE PHYSICIAN SUC-
CUMES AFTER APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Dr. J. J. Dawson of Somerville, died at the Cameron Hospital Wednesday following an operation for appendicitis. He was brought here early Wednesday morning from Somerville but his condition was such that surgical skill could not save his life.

Dr. Dawson was a native of Texas having been born in Burnett county on May 2, 1873 and was 53 years old. For a long time he practiced medicine in Bastrop county, having moved to Somerville during the past year or two where he formed a partnership with Dr. E. W. Stork.

The funeral will be held Friday at McDade in Bastrop county with C. N. Green & Bros. directing the funeral. He is survived by his wife and two children, a son and daughter as follows: Wilburn Dawson and Mrs. Lillian Waugh.

Dr. Dawson was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, a member of the Masonic Lodge and was of the Episcopal faith in church.

A complete account of his life and works will appear in the forthcoming issue.

SIGN AGAIN FOR BIG
CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

FINANCIAL LOSS THIS YEAR BUT
CITIZENS TO BRING IT BACK
NEXT YEAR

Despite the discouraging loss of about $400 on the Chautauqua program for this year, citizens under the leadership of W. O. Triggs, chairman of the local Chautauqua committee have signed a contract to bring the entertainment back for 1927.

The Redpath-Horner Chautauqua has been a fixture in the entertainment field in Cameron for many years. It has lost money only a few times and in other years has more than paid for expenses.

Fifty citizens have been asked to underwrite the $1500 necessary to pay the expense and early Thursday Mr. Triggs has assigned more than 40.

"We believe the Chautauqua is a great community entertainment enterprise and worth the money and we will bring it back again in 1927," said Mr. Triggs in discussing the entertainment.

MRS. P. J. MILLER DEAD
AT AGE OF 75 YEARS

NATIVE OF ALABAMA AND PIONEER
RESIDENT HERE BURIED IN OAK HILL

With the passing of Mrs. P. J. Miller on Tuesday evening at her home in North Cameron a large family group are bereft of their mother and grandmother and many friends were made sad. The funeral conducted by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the Baptist church at the residence with burial at Oak Hill Cemetery was attended by a large concourse of friends. The funeral was conducted by Green Bros. funeral directors.

Mrs. Miller's death followed a long period of decline but she was able to be at her household tasks sometimes. After supper Tuesday evening she succumbed to a sudden attack of acute indigestion.

Mrs. Miller was a native of Alabama. She was born in that state seventy five years ago. She was twice married. Mr. Charles Ingram her husband was killed at the jail crossing of the Santa Fe railroad in 1883. His death was one of the first railroad fatalities to occur in Cameron. Four boys, Willis, Lamar, Abner and Beauregard and one daughter, Laura Ingram were left for their mother to rear. Mrs. Ingram was later married to Mr. Wes Miller and they had two children. Wyatt Miller and Lillie, now Mrs. Ollie Walker of Houston. Mrs. Miller is survived by all of her children and by a number of grandchildren and by one great grandchild. Most of them live in and near Cameron. Her daughters, Mrs. Laura Ingram Mooney of San Antonio, Mrs. Lillie Miller Walker of Houston, and her son, Beauregard Ingram of Houston came by motor for the funeral which was held Wednesday afternoon at six o'clock.

Mesdames N. H. Butts and W. B. Denson shopped in Waco Saturday.

Bright Wings
of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toll of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed untroubled by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling spinster went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, haymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled mustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

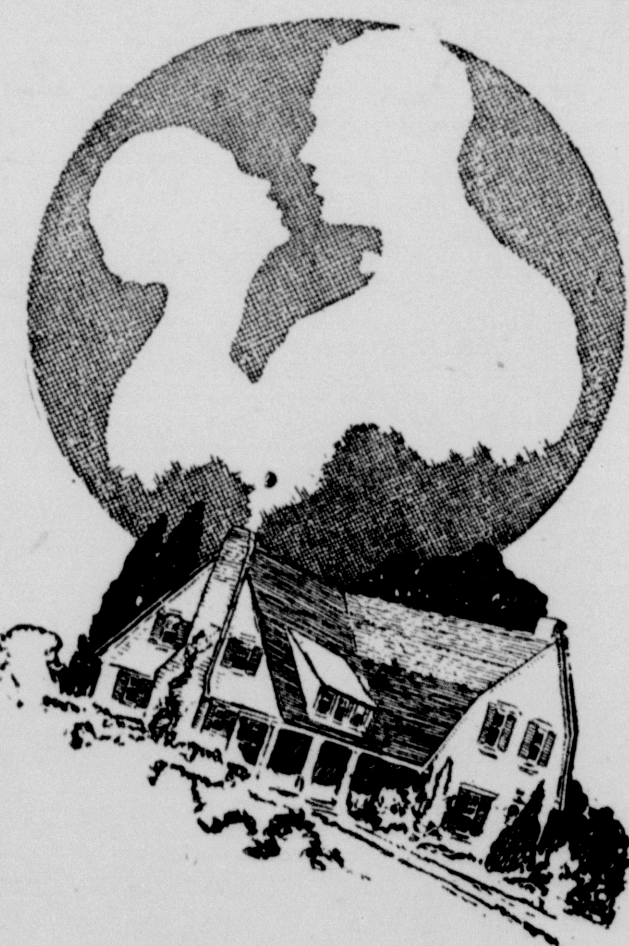

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone—I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed it.

BRIDAY COURTESY

Honoring Miss Ruth Wiley whose wedding to Mr. Russel Bruce Wine of San Antonio took place the same evening Mr. and Mrs. Wiley yMangum at their home on Houston Avenue entertained with a luncheon at 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Covers were laid for eighteen guests about a large table and three smaller ones. The place cards were cupids and wedding rings. The tables were each centered with colonial bouquets of daisies and ferns. The three course luncheon was faultlessly served and the guests lingered for a season of conversation after the following menu:

Fruit Cocktail Tomato Salad
Fried chicken Fig Pickle Hot Rolls
Peas in patties Baked Potato
Ice cream Iced Tea Cake Squares

The guest personnel included the honor guests Miss Ruth Wiley and Mr. Russel Bruce Wine of San Antonio, their mothers, Mrs. R. S. Wiley and Mrs. L. B. Wine of San Antonio and members of the bridal party and friends: Misses Ellie Hinton of Valley Mills, Alice Bennett of Angleton, Rosine Ledbetter, Carolyn Wine, of San Antonio, Louise Adams of Waco, Bess Wiley of San Marcos, Sallie Kate McLane, Bess and Elizabeth Mangum, Mesdames Earl Evers of Cuero, C. W. Bradbury, H. C. Watson of Waco, Messrs. Mike Wiley, Randolph Wine and William Engle of San Antonio.

BRIDGE FOR BRIDE

An attractive hospitality honoring Miss Ruth Wiley, bride elect, was the summertime bridge party Tuesday afternoon in the handsome new home of Mrs. George T. Graves. Greeting the guests at the portals was Mrs. John Mangum who directed them to the receiving line where stood the hostess, the honoree and her two friends, Miss Ellie Hinton of Valley Mills and Miss Alice Bennett of Angleton. The eleven tables were played about the reception suite and on the porch. Summertime flowers lent their fragrance and charm to the effective decorative scheme with handsome Shasta daisies and fern in colonial bouquets at places of vantage. Mrs. Wiley Mangum served fruit punch from an attractive nook before the games began. Accessories in Colonial and fan designs were used. The trophy for high score, a gossamer fan, was won by Mrs. Shofner Stirling, and the consolation, a colonial perfume star, by Mrs. Arthur Cruse. The honoree was given a bridal package containing green crystal water goblets. Dainty linens were spread and a green ice with individual angel cake squares embossed with lilies of the valley, was served by the hostess assisted by Mesdames John and Wiley Mangum with miniature wedding bell plate favors. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Hinton of Valley Mills and Bennett of Angleton, Mrs. H. C. Watson of Waco and Mrs. Earl Evers of Cuero.

BRIDGE PARTY

Outstanding among the lovely hospitalities of last week was the Bridge party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Atkinson honoring Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Atkinson of El Dorado Arkansas, who have been spending their honeymoon with relatives in Maysfield and Cameron. Seven tables on the lawn were gayly outfitted for the series of games and fruit punch was served during the games by Misses Louise, Katharyn and Florence Atkinson. High score trophy for ladies was won by Mrs. Hugh Warden of Waco and consolation went to Mrs. Clifton Jenness. Shofner Sterling captured men's high score trophy and W. D. Bigbee the consolation.

Ice cream and cake favoring the bridal theme was served by the hostess and her trio of charming daughters near the conclusion of the evening.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. G. Overton of El Paso, and Mrs. Hugh Warden of Waco.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

GOVERNOR FERGUSON PLEADS FOR WOMEN

IN SPEECH AT ROCKDALE GOVERNOR SAYS FIGHT ON HER WITHOUT REASON

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson brought her campaign fight to Milam county Tuesday in a speech at Rockdale pleading for the rights of women and asking for a second term.

The governor arrived at Rockdale at 1:12 p. m. and was greeted by a large number of people at the station. She was accompanied by her husband, former governor James E. Ferguson, their daughter, Miss Doris Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith, the former being secretary of the highway commission.

The pioneer concert band of Cameron playing for the party given her by friends at Temple before she went away to take the oath of office, went to the hotel at Rockdale and played several selections. The governor and party stood on the sidewalk and listened to the music.

The governor was cheered as she went to the speakers platform to deliver her address. She introduced her husband, James E. Ferguson, who made a speech in defense of the administration to thousands who stood banked about the speakers stand and under the pavilion.

Appealing to women, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson asked if "the sacred relation of marriage hereafter be a bar to the woman who seeks office or shall women be given the same right as men?"

"If equal suffrage means only the right to vote for men and not to hold office with men, then a sham and a fraud has been perpetrated on us women," she declared.

The governor said that no opposing candidate has denied that her public announcements in her platform were true. She said:

"Sixty days ago I published the platform upon which I asked the people of Texas to give me the same second term for governor that has been given to men. Thirty days ago, in an opening speech, I reaffirmed my platform and the delivery of my speech, no candidate has said that my public announcements do not speak the truth. No denial has been made that I have kept every promise to the people.

"The only contention now is that I should not be re-elected because I am a woman and have a husband.

"The issue is now put squarely up to the people. Shall the sacred relation of marriage hereafter be a bar to the woman who seeks office, or shall women be given the same rights as men. I appeal to my sister mothers, wives and daughters to hold up my hands in this attack that has been made upon our sex. If equal suffrage means only the right to vote for men and not to hold office with men, then a sham and fraud has been perpetrated on us women, who have suffered and endured as much as men for the preservation of this republic.

"The issue involved is far greater than any personal or political controversy that any set of politicians may have with my husband. I am claiming my rights and the rights of women as well. My husband can take care of his rights.

"The question I raise and urge is, 'shall a woman whose public record has not been attacked, be denied a second term in office in Texas?' My personal or political fortunes are nothing compared with the principal involved. If the opposition should succeed in this campaign then the equal rights of women will be set back a hundred years. If they had attacked the character of my service then there might have been some degree of sincerity. But, that they have not done. They only say I am a woman, who has a husband.

"I am proud to say that from all over Texas the voice of the people is beginning to be heard. Mothers who love their husbands are rallying to my cause. Husbands who love their wives are shouting 'Me fer Ma'. Sisters and daughters who are to be the mothers of coming posterity are speaking for the cause which I represent.

Sons and brothers who reverence the name of mother and love the name of sisters are marching to victory."

THE "OLE SWIMMIN' HOLE"

As the older men look back on their boyhood, particularly those who came from small cities and country towns, the "ole swimmin' hole" is one of the most pleasant memories. Happy were the youngsters of the town that had good swimming places. Many unfortunately were not so favored, and no lake, pool, river, or sea-shore place existed within their reach.

Nowhere else did the boys feel such pure ecstasy of youth as they did in these swimming places, and the cool invigoration of the water seemed to stimulate them to the most abundant joy. They swam and dove and paddled and did fancy stunts, while the surrounding fields and woodlands resounded with their merriment.

Many of the swimming holes were tiny little places, and often were nothing more than some spot where a brook or little river had widened and deepened a bit. But a boy would walk a long distance in those times for such a dip. He expected no automobile to transport him in glorious ease. Though he might squeal at home if submitted to the indignity of a Saturday night bath, he would yet venture into quite shivery water at the old hole.

It was a sport that in many places was mostly restricted to boys, for it was considered unmanly and effete in those days to wear a bathing suit, and the women and girls were excluded from these joys. In these times the girls have become powerful swimmers, and in hundreds or thousands of cities and towns, public bathing accommodations and supervision are provided for both sexes.

The feeling has grown that all young people should learn to swim, and many colleges and schools require it as part of their curriculum. Cities and towns with no swimming places are constructing them artificially, and it has become almost an essential of community development.

RUSH FOR PUBLIC BUILDINGS

The government having started out on a program for erection of public buildings to cost $165,690,000 in the aggregate, a grand rush for the allotment of this money has begun. For every one building the government is able to put up, there will be a dozen or perhaps fifty cities and towns applying for such a grant.

Some good arguments can be made in behalf of the idea that the government should own the buildings for its own operations. If a business man could know positively that he was going to be doing business for 20 years in his present location, he would in the great majority of cases feel he could make a saving by owning his own building. He ought not to be paying someone else to do for him at a profit, that he should be able to do for himself.

The government of course not merely knows that it is going to be doing business for 20 years, but it knows it will conduct the post-office business indefinitely, though of course as cities change, the locations may have to change from time to time. Still, if the government could put up buildings without regard to political considerations, and as efficiently as a private corporation would, it would no doubt be policy for it to put up a large number of buildings for postoffices, custom houses, etc.

But a terrible scramble would occur, if the government should spend a vast sum on such structures. We shall have to go at it slowly and find ways by which politics can be eliminated in such work.

In many cases in past years, buildings have been put up at large expense in small towns, where the interest on the money, cost of maintenance, etc., has been far in excess of the cost of rented quarters. The people's money should not be wasted in that way.

THE FIRST ENTHUSIASM

If you watch the way people work, from the student at his books, to people on the big and little jobs of industry and business, it is remarkable how they commonly lose something of their first enthusiasm for their task.

The way it works was suggested by a recent questionnaire obtained from the Yale college. It was found that the average freshman studies his lessons 23.3 hours a week, and that the time spent in study declined each year, until the seniors only studied 18.3 hours per week. Probably the results would be about the same in the great majority of the colleges.

The figures showed that as these students approached graduation, their scholarship standing constantly improved, so it might be claimed that the less work they did, the higher they stood. That could be attributed to increased maturity and better knowledge of how to study. But it would not seem as if it would hurt any college student to spend 23 hours a week on his lessons. That is an average of less than four hours a day. Considering all the vacations they get, it would not appear they were overworked if they did that. The results would be seen in higher intelligence and better preparation for work and citizenship.

But the new broom always sweeps clean. The freshmen are no doubt fearful of being dropped, and they work hard, and later their enthusiasm tapers off a little.

It is just the same way with average people when they take a job. They work with great energy for a time, until they feel they have made good, and then there is a tendency to taper off, and do only enough to get by. Such people may be able to hold their jobs, but they do not attract attention in that way. When the boss is looking for someone for a promotion, he does not pick those that have lost their first enthusiasm.

QUANTITY DISTRIBUTION

Quantity production has been one of the methods by which the cost of manufacturing has been reduced. And similarly, if a retail store can double its sales, it will make money of the same economies that are accomplished by quantity production.

The principal method of accomplishing quantity distribution is through advertising. It usually takes a long time to induce people to buy at a store, unless it has some extremely favorable location, unless that concern makes some special effort to attract the people and secure their interest. The people like the enterprise and push of an advertised store, and they flock to such a place, and enable it to make the economies created by quantity distribution.

CARE OF RENTED HOMES

The complaint is often made by owners of real estate, that the people who rent their houses do not take any interest in beautifying their property. The owner may say that if he improved the property, the tenants would not take any pains to keep it up. As the result of such lack of co-operation, some neighborhoods become unattractive, if they would carefully remove all disorder, the owners of the property would hesitate a long time before doing anything that would drive such tenants out.

Also when landlords show a willingness to improve the property which they rent, their houses look more attractive to refined people who will take care of a house and prevent its deterioration.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY,
BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment of a disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

I Want to Live All My Life With the School Children of Texas

PLATFORM OF

J. A. Humphries

Hockley County
Candidate for STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION
Austin, Texas

I AM FOR

1. More rural high schools by giving them more State Aid.
2. Per Capita apportionment, $15.
3. For cigar, cigarette and one-fourth of the gasoline tax for schools.
4. More State Junior Colleges.
5. Modified county unit system.
6. Changes in Rural Aid Law that county superintendent do all the inspection.
7. The practical recommendations of Educational Survey be made into law.
8. More economical text book system.
9. Abolishing ex-officio county superintendent's office.
10. Taking Texas schools from the back yard in rank to forefront educationally.

I AM AGAINST

1. Orgy of waste and burning of text books.
2. Inefficiency and unfairness of administration of text book distribution as to counties by Superintendent Marrs.
3. Bureaucracy and centralization of power by Marrs regime.
4. Useless and extravagant litigation for political effect by Marrs.
5. Favoritism in text book contracts by Marrs.
6. Denial of the right to the people of selecting their county and state superintendent by popular vote.
7. Attempts of Marrs to set aside the solemn and binding contracts made by the Text Book Commission.

In my preliminary announcement some weeks ago, I promised to give the public a more detailed statement of the policies and principles that would influence me if favored by their support. I am now ready to submit, in part at least, some matters that I consider vital in a forward program of school development.

1. I favor an apportionment of not less than $15.00 per capita for any year. I shall also favor the enactment of a law whereby a definite and a certain amount of funds can be ascertained before the time of contract signing arrives.

2. I am in favor of the "Free Text Book Law," and stand committed to an efficient administration of that law. Under the Marrs administration of shameful discriminations have been exercised in favor of some counties to the neglect of others.

3. I am in favor of bringing into use in our State methods of handling the "Free Text Book Law" used in other states, and with a cost much less than our cost. This can be affected to the end that half million dollars can be annually conserved.

4. I will try, with the co-operation of the Legislature and the Governor, to put into effect the "Report of the Educational Survey" concerning the Rural and High Schools. There are many and vital changes suggested by the survey that should be incorporated in our Public School System. I shall discuss these in the campaign.

5. I am heartily in favor of the "County Unit System" with this one modification, viz., that the control, management of schools and employment of teachers be retained in the local board but that the budget and school tax be uniformly county-wide in extent.

6. I will appoint as assistant in the various departments men and women especially qualified for the work assigned and without regard to the usual political effect that such appointments are intended to foster.

7. I will at all times do my best to co-operate with the several State departments in promoting the interest of the school children of Texas.

8. I am in favor of electing State and county superintendents by popular vote. I am in favor of a forward and progressive program of education, but feel that it can be secured by leaving with the electorate the choice of these heads.

9. In keeping with the recommendations of the Survey Staff, I shall favor a relief to the overworked county superintendent in the populous counties by providing an assistant rural supervisor to be created as the Legislature may, in its judgment, see fit. Proper supervision can be secured only when competent help is supplied.

10. I shall favor a law abolishing the ex-officio county school superintendent's office and the appointment instead of supervisor, said appointment to be made by the county school trustees. This provision is intended to take care of possibly 25 per cent of the counties of Texas where under the law they have not reached the required scholastic population to entitle them to a regularly elected school superintendent.

11. I am in favor of a tax on tobacco, gasoline and all luxuries—a severance tax also, that the schools of Texas may have the needed revenue to maintain them in an efficient manner and without any additional burden on the land owner.

The above recommendations, in my judgment, are practicable, for they are urged by the best and most experienced men and women. The three candidates seeking your suffrage are alike interested in progressive education, but we may—in our desire to best serve—differ on the plan and policy of securing the end desired. I believe in co-operation in all things. Mr. Marrs believes in dictation. I believe that everybody is smarter than anybody, while Superintendent Marrs believes in mental monopoly. I believe that in the republic of mind there is wisdom. Mr. Marrs believes that he is the prophet of true learning. I believe in wisdom of the masses, while Mr. Marrs believes in the intellectual wif. I believe in rotation in office, while Mr. Marrs believes in life tenure.

I give to the public this platform of principles that will influence me if elected to the office I aspire. If the people of Texas could know the interest I have in their children, I would be elected overwhelmingly. I believe in an impartial administration of the Department of Education and that its agents, envoys and ambassadors should go to the rural and remote districts of this State, study conditions and co-operate with local interests in effecting the needed development.

In announcing my candidacy, it becomes necessary to refer to the administration of Superintendent Marrs. If it were a successful administration and proudly administered, the press of Texas would bear the achievements in its columns. Mr. Marrs himself and his agents would proclaim in every hamlet and mart in this State "His Forward Looking Program."

If I am wrong in the reasons given for being against Mr. Marrs, you should know about it, and you will know about it. If I am correct in these published statements, then I deserve credit for having the courage to say them. If what I have said about Mr. Marrs is untrue, then it should defeat me; if what I have said is true, it should defeat him. I have purposely waited until Mr. Marrs decided to announce for a third term, and now that he has I am violating no rule of ethics in setting forth the facts of his administration.

SLEDGE HOUSTON ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

KU KLUX QUESTION RAISED IN CASE FROM SOMERVILLE

Belton, Tex., June 21.—When the district court adjourned tonight in the trial of W. S. Houston on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of G. A. White of Somerville, Burleson county, recently only one juror had been selected and more than 50 of the special venire had been exhausted.

This afternoon the prosecution attorneys intimated very clearly that they expect the Ku Klux question to be a predominant issue throughout the trial and they frequently asked veniremen if they knew that "the defendant is a klansman."

The jurors were passed on various counts, frequently on "conscientious scruples" against the death sentence. The prosecution was about to take one man when the defense raised the question that the certified list of jurors furnished the attorneys had the man's initials wrong and the man was excused.

Two men examined said "yes" when asked if they had ever been members of the klan. The prosecution pressed this question and sought to establish that membership in the klan would make a juror prejudiced. The two men were W. D. Reed of Holland and Will Hamilton of Temple. Both insisted that being a member of the klan would not effect their verdict.

"Then what of that oath you took—to protect a brother klansman in all cases except treason, rape or willful murder?"

In each case the prospective juror said that they did not remember the oath exactly.

"If it develops that the klan issue is strong in this case, would your membership in the klan have any effect?" Reed said it would not. "Then your oath as a klansman would have no effect on you?" "No." "Then why did you take it?"

"Because I wanted to."

Hamilton wrestled with the prosecution attorney for some 15 minutes, steadfastly maintaining that "If I took the oath and it takes away my opinion, then I am not following the oath," he said.

Both were excused by the state.

Belton, June 21.—What promises to be one of the hardest fought legal battles ever staged in the twenty-seventh district court began here this morning when W. S. (Sledge) Houston, former Santa Fe special officer and for twenty years constable of the Somerville precinct was arraigned for the murder of Constable Garrett A. White, former world war veteran who died in a Temple hospital on March 13, from wounds received earlier in the day in a street battle at Somerville.

Following the death of White, Houston came to this city on March 14, and surrendered himself to officers and since then has been held in the county jail.

The trouble which led up to the fatal shooting is said to have started prior to the election in 1924 when White defeated Houston for Constable. Indicating that the trouble was also anguished by the klan question was intimated here today when attorneys for the state propounded to the special veniremen the question of whether or not they ever belonged to the klan.

An unusual array of legal talent is connected with the case. Assisting District Attorney Few Brewster in the prosecution are Lud Williams of Waco; Senator J. W. Thomas of this city; District Attorney Merton Harris of Bastrop; Judge W. M. Hilliard of Caldwell; and H. B. Williams of Waco.

The defense is represented by W. W. Hair of Temple; DeWitt Bowmer, of Temple; A. L. Curtis of Belton; Hayes Bowers of Caldwell and John defense and Lud Williams for the Mathis of Houston. Mr. Hair for the prosecution took the lead in the case this morning.

State council asked the veniremen were they opposed to the infliction of death as a penalty for crime.

In questioning veniremen defense counsel indicated that they would plead self defense. District Attorney Brewster read the indictment and to the question of whether or not the defendant is guilty or not guilty of the charge, Houston, in a low but clear voice, replied "Not guilty." The examination of special veniremen was then begun.

W. M. Smith, a farmer living four miles east of this city was the first to qualify as a juror. He was the third venireman to be called and was accepted at 12:03 p. m. after which court recessed until 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon, when the examination of veniremen was resumed.

One of the largest crowds ever in attendance at a trial here was present ent when the case was called this morning. Over 200 witnesses, including a number of Rangers, former rangers and a score or more of negroes from Burleson county are here, many friends and relatives of both the defendant Houston and the deceased and the gray haired mother. Two brothers are also in attendance and have their seats beside the prosecution.

The order in the court room was unusually good for so large a number. A number of deputies are assisting Sheriff Bigham in waiting on the court and the case is being dispatched by Judge Jones with all swiftness possible. It is believed, however, that it will take some time to secure a jury as a number of special veniremen were excused for legal reasons or else were permitted to return to their homes in order to thrash their grain.

JUDGE ED. F. ENGLISH APPEALS TO VOTERS

JUSTICE PEACE ASKS SUPPORT OF WOMEN VOTERS IN STATEMENT

Judge Ed F. English, candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace for a second term, has issued the following statement to the women voters of Cameron:

To the Women Voters of Cameron: "I find that on account of the extremely hot weather and my advanced age, it will be impossible for me to see all of you at your homes in the short time intervening between now and the primary election in order to look you in the face and ask you for your support and influence.

"I am a candidate, as you are aware, for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace, and should I undertake to make a house to house canvass, it ought to raise in your minds a doubt as to my fitness for the place.

"I have lived in Cameron half of a long life, and you all doubtless know me, and may I not ask if you believe me honest and capable and that I will discharge the duties of the office faithfully and impartially, that you will give me your support.

Very respectfully,
ED. F. ENGLISH.

Friends of W. J. Walker will be pleased to know that he will be superintendent of the Glimmer Schools next year. He has been elected recently to the position and his friends here feel sure that he will maintain the high standard of excellence in school management that he always set for himself. Mr. Walker and family are now living near Baylor College in Belton where his daughter, Miss Mary Sue is a student.

J. R. Ball for State Treasurer

WHAT HI SHOME PEOPLE SAY ABOUT HIM

We, as citizens of Bonham, Fannin County, Texas, do hereby recommend J. R. Ball, who is a candidate for State Treasurer, to the people of Texas, as being a Christian gentleman and his integrity is beyond reproach. We have known him for several years and know him to be a man capable of carrying out anything he undertakes.

He was born and reared on a farm in this county, taught in the public schools for a number of years, and left his wife at home among us, as many others did, to serve over seas during the late World War.

"REASONS WHY HE SHOULD BE ELECTED"

1st. He is qualified, having served four years under the Hon. Lon A. Smith when he was State Comptroller; taught for a number of years in the Public Schools of Fannin County, after completing his education at the East Texas Normal College at Commerce, Texas, and the North Texas State Normal at Denton, Texas.

2nd. His opponent W. Gregory Hatcher ran for State Senator in 1921 in his home county, Dallas, which has a voting strength of more than 60,000 and received only 167 votes. (page 52, vol. 5, Commissioner's Court Records, Dallas.

3rd. Ball is not and has never been a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

4. The names of both his opponents, W. Gregory Hatcher, and George G. Garrett, appear on the membership records of the Dallas Klan No. 66.

5th. Every full time man in the employ of W. Gregory Hatcher with only one exception is or has been a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

6th. W. Gregory Hatcher has made statements through the press that each dollar of the State's money deposited in Austin banks, by him, was covered by surety bonds in the amount of $1.10 as is required by the State Banking Board. Upon investigation it has been found from his own records that one of these banks, the president, Sam Sparks, and a noted klansman of Texas, had on deposit on April 1, 1926, $765,061.86 of State money and had as collateral for this deposit $340,000.00 which is $161,568.05 less than one-half the amount required.

"ARE YOU GOING TO ALLOW THIS TO EXIST BETWEEN A KLAN BANKER AND A KLAN TREASURER?"

Every man and woman in Texas believing in good government, and for the election of a man who has no enemies to punish nor special interests to reward should vote for J. R. Ball for State Treasurer.
